

South Huntington Public Library
3D Printing Policy
(Adopted October 15, 2018)

To advance its goal of providing free and open access to technology and information promoting literacy, education, enlightenment and entertainment, the South Huntington Public Library offers patrons the opportunity to 3D print their own original designs or those found on various open-source websites.

Formats accepted are as follows: .stl or .obj. Patrons are permitted to submit their file for review at the Adult Reference Desk via USB flash, CD/DVD, or by emailing it to adultservices@shpl.info. Upon approval, patrons will be notified of a print price.

Prints will be priced according to the volume of material used. Prices are subject to change.

Patrons will be contacted when their print is ready for pickup. Prints that are not picked up after 30 days will become the property of the Library and unpaid charges will be applied to the patron's library account.

No project shall be printed that Library staff determines is:

- Prohibited by local, state, or federal law.
- Unsafe, harmful, dangerous, or posing as a threat to others.
- Obscene or offensive to the community's standards/mores.
- In violation of intellectual property rights-copyright, patent, trademark.

In addition to the above restrictions, the Library reserves the discretionary right to refuse any 3D print request that it deems inappropriate or unwarranted.

By submitting content, the patron agrees to assume all responsibility for, and shall hold the Library harmless in, all matters related to patented, trademarked, or copyrighted materials. The South Huntington Public Library is not responsible for any damage, loss, or security of data arising from the use of its computers or network, nor for the functionality or quality of content produced on the 3D printer.
